HEAVY OPPOSITION ENCOUNTERED NEAR TROARN

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 20—(P)—British armor, slashing forward in several directions, has cut into good tank fighting country on a broad front five miles southeast of Caen and the Germans have been unable to stabilize their lines in the third day of the offensive, despite their best efforts, supreme headquarters announced today.

Heavy fighting was raging, however, around a German anti-tank screen in the Emieville-Prenouville area from two to three and a half miles southwest of Troarn, a railway center eight miles east of Caen.

MIDDLE REICH BLACKENED BY AIR ARMADA

London, July 20—(P)—In great, coordinated attacks on Germany for the third straight day, 2,000 British based American planes bombed a profusion of oil and airplane plants around Leipzig and another fleet from Italy pummeled airdromes in the Munich and Friedrichshafen areas today.

The skies of central Germany were blackened by more than 1,200 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and up to 750 fighters. An armada of like strength levelled objectives around Munich and from Saarbrücken on the French frontier to Schweinfurt in southeast Germany yesterday.

Fifth Army Reaches Lower Arno Along 25-Mile Front

By NOLAN NORGAARD

Rome, July 20—(P)—American troops, reaching the south bank of the lower Arno river on a 25-mile front in hot pursuit of the Germans fleeing to their Gothic line defenses beyond the river, have captured Colle Salvetti, seven miles northeast of Allied-held Livorno, Allied headquarters announced today.

The latest town to fall to the Americans, fanning out against decreasing Nazi resistance, is about 10 miles southeast of Pisa, on a highway leading directly to that important enemy anchor position.

German opposition was confined largely to sniping parties armed with automatic weapons as United States forces seized the last high ground held by the Germans south of the Arno river, and laid down artillery fire which left the enemy without any alternative than retreat.

At the other end of the front Polish and Italian units pushed on from the west coast port of Ancona and cut the coastal road at Torrette a Mare, nearly three miles west of the city. Another column, with armor, sped along the inland route in the Adriatic sector and established a bridgehead over the Esino river, 10 miles west of Ancona and south of Chiaravalle.

The enemy left much valuable equipment in the Ancona sector. Torrential rains impeded movements on the entire battlefield, but both the Fifth and Eighth armies made steady progress.

The Fifth Army gained three to four miles and captured Certaldo, San Appiano, Vico d'Elia, Poppi, Anghiari, Lariano and San Donato. A five-mile gain was made beyond Castellina. Advance elements were less than three miles south of the important road junction of Castellina.

OVER SUPPLY OF SNAP BEANS IN PROSPECT

Harrisburg, July 20—(P)—Housewives in Pennsylvania were advised today by Secretary of Agriculture Miles Forness to buy snap beans now for canning.

"Prices are low and wastage of large quantities of important wartime food can be avoided," said Forness in pointing out that an over-supply faced farmers in some sections.

Meanwhile virtually all of the state's farm crops were showing the effect of drought conditions, with scattered showers bringing only slight relief in some localities.

SOVIETS PUSH FIGHTING INTO EAST PRUSSIA

German Army Shows Signs of Breaking in Hotly Contested Battleground West of Niemen River

SMASH BUG DEFENSES

EDITOR'S NOTE: Daniel De Luce, veteran Associated Press war correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winner, has arrived in Moscow from the Italian front to cover the Russian offensive, now driving across Poland. De Luce was in Poland when the Germans invaded that country in 1939, later covered the war in Greece and escaped from that country to Turkey. He subsequently was in Burma when the Japanese attacked, covered the British retreat and then went to North Africa where he followed the Eighth Army drive across Tunisia. His first dispatch from Moscow follows.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, July 20—(P)—The German Army showed signs of breaking in the hotly contested battleground west of the Niemen river before East Prussia today as seven fronts flamed in battle.

(The German radio said Russian troops had reached Augustow, at the base of the Suwalki triangle which was annexed to East Prussia out of Polish territory in 1939. The town is eight miles from the pre-war frontier of East Prussia.)

The string of German-held cities of Lwow, Brest Litovsk, Bialystok, Kaunas and Daugavpils was tottering, with the Russians fighting to the outskirts of Lwow in southern Poland and possibly in the suburbs of Brest Litovsk in northern Poland.

In the south the Russians for the first time had smashed through the Bug river defense which from 1939 to 1941 formed the dividing line between Russia and German-held Poland.

In the newest of their power-packed offensives near the Latvian republic's northeast corner, Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's third Baltic Army crossed the Velikaya river south of Ostrov and made swift progress toward middle Latvia, the frontier only nine miles away.

The Soviet air force was out in a strength never before equalled, giving sun cover for masses of tanks, cavalry and infantry which swarmed upon the Germans from the western Bug river to the bogs of the north.

Last reports said that barely eight miles northeast of Lwow the Red army had four to five German divisions completely pocketed in the rear at Brody.

Premier Stalin's high command reported gains in many sectors of the 600-mile front, along which the prize objectives of Kaunas, Daugavpils (Dvinsk) and Brest Litovsk were nearly within the Red army's grasp.

Battle-scarred Lwow, hub of six important rail lines and in Soviet hands the last time in 1941, appeared certain to be lost by the reeling German defenders, who fell back over 13 miles in the last 24 hours.

PORT CHICAGO DEATH TOLL STANDS AT 322

Port Chicago, Calif., July 20—(P)—The death toll of the explosion of two ammunition-laden ships here Monday night stood at 322 today with a navy announcement of 232 deaths of men known to be dead or missing.

In addition to the navy list issued last night known dead or missing included 69 merchant sailors, 31 members of armed guard crews aboard the vessels, five coastguardsmen and four civilians caught in the blast.

Louisville Family Of Three Buys No Rationed Articles

Louisville, Ky., July 20—(P)—Rationing and point-budgeting may stump and befuddle most Americans but not the O. W. Smiths, a Louisville family of three. They simply buy no rationed goods.

"If a man sits down and makes a list of all the things that are not rationed," says Mr. Smith, "he will find he can get plenty to eat."

Japan's Debacle In Losing Saipan and Imminent Loss of Guam Forces Tokyo Upheaval

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Japan has thrown out the Tojo government which carried it into war and called today on two 64-year-old militarists to pick a new cabinet—which faces the Canute-like task of trying to halt the tide of Allied power now lapping at Nippon's very shores.

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, the "razor-brained" army leader who has directed Japan's Pacific war since it started, was stripped of power Tuesday, Tokyo radio belatedly announced, and his entire cabinet fell with him.

Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, governor-general of Korea and former vice army minister, and Adm. Mitsu-masa Yonai, one-time premier, were directed by Emperor Hirohito to form a new government, a Tokyo broadcast said today. This unusual double-harness arrangement pointed up the urgency of the war situation as Tokyo saw it.

There was no slightest doubt that Japan's debacle in losing Saipan and the imminent loss of Guam had forced this stunning upheaval. Tokyo linked the two events inferentially, admitting the Saipan defeat almost simultaneously with announcement of high-command changes preceding Tojo's resignation.

Adm. Nimitz' great fleet poured devastation upon Guam for the fifteenth consecutive day, unloading a torrent of bombs and shells on the island's defenses against invasion. The Guam barracks from battleships, cruisers, destroyers and planes exceeded in length the Saipan softening-up process.

In the southwest Pacific, another arena in which Tojo has suffered hard blows, Gen. MacArthur reported further repulses of enemy attempts to break out of a New Guinea trap. There, 5,000 Japanese are cornered, facing death by starvation, disease or steel. There and on captured Noemfoor island 2,240 Japanese have died in recent weeks.

China fought doggedly to hold Hengyang. Enemy reinforcements were brought up to force a decision at this Canton-Hankow rail junction and Chungking said the battle was nearing its climax.

Chungking said relief appeared in sight for Hengyang garrison, with guns of the rescue force in carshed. The U. S. 14th Airforce slashed at extended Japanese supply lines to bolster the Hengyang defenders.

The Japanese held out all 175 miles of the 1,000-mile Peiping-Canton railway, but taking that last gap has been a process so gallingly slow that it undoubtedly bore on Tojo's fall.

Tojo quit on an apologetic note. Tokyo radio said: "At this time of decisive war to have reached the stage existing today is causing the emperor much concern, because of which the present cabinet is filled with trepidation, and in apologizing for the government's meager power to the men on the fighting front and the one hundred million people of Japan who continue to work toward certain victory, it has been decided that this cabinet should be dissolved."

It was built around one theme—a change in administration while the nation is at war.

Six foot three and beaming beneath a snow white 10-gallon hat, Kerr depicted his party under Roosevelt as the party of achievement; the Republicans as exemplified by Dewey as untested with no program except to "oppose."

The Oklahoma brought down the crowded house with reference to "twelve long years when America 'hardened' under Harding, 'cooled' under Coolidge and 'hungered' under Hoover."

91-Year-Old Mother Of Truman Speaks Up

Kansas City, July 20—(P)—The 91-year-old mother of Sen. Harry S. Truman (D-Mo.) doesn't want her son to be vice-president. She thinks he should stay in the senate where "he can do more good."

Mrs. Martha E. Truman, who will be 92 November 25, recalls that she told her son last week, just before he left her home in suburban Grandview, Mo., for the Democratic national convention in Chicago, that he should remain a senator. She adds:

"Harry said, 'I'd rather be'. And he meant it."

The sprightly mother of the man who is reported to be President Roosevelt's second choice, behind Vice-President Wallace, for a running mate in the November elections sat in her old-fashioned rocker last night and listened to the convention by radio.

BRUSHSTON STORE BOMBED
Pittsburgh, July 20—(P)—Police today sought clues in the bombing of a suburban Brushston confectionery store after Richard Hall, the owner, could ascribe no motive for the early morning blast which caused damage of $1,500. No one was injured, but windows were shattered by a block around the scene by concussion of the bomb, which police said apparently was made of dynamite.

ATTEMPT ON HITLER'S LIFE IS REPORTED

Berlin Radio Announcement Says Fuehrer Is Burned and Bruised; Others Are Injured

SCENE IS UNREVEALED

By the Associated Press
London, July 20—(P)—Berlin announced that Adolf Hitler was burned and bruised in an unsuccessful bombing attempt on his life today.

The chief of Hitler's military leaders were seriously injured, while his chief military advisor Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl was less seriously hurt along with five other generals and two admirals.

The FCC said one German broadcast said the attempt on Hitler's life was "by dynamite," another mentioned "explosives" and still a third said merely "an attempt was made on the life of the Fuehrer today, Thursday."

The broadcast announcement did not give the scene of the attack, but it obviously took place while Hitler was surrounded by high members of the military staff—perhaps at Hitler's headquarters.

The announcement came 16 hours after Tokyo's announcement of the fall of Premier Hideki Tojo, and Berlin said Hitler after the attack received Benito Mussolini; third member of the ill-starred trio who led the Axis into war.

Among seriously injured, Berlin said, was Lt. Gen. Schmundt, chief of the German army's personnel department and chief military aide de camp to Hitler for several years.

Two lieutenant colonels named Brandt and Borgmann, and a "collaborator" named Berger also were listed as seriously injured.

Slightly injured were these: General Jodl, Hitler's personal military aide; Karl Bodenschatz, aide to Hitler; Guenther Korten, chief of staff of the German air force; Buhle, Heusinger and Walter Scherff.

Admirals Voss and Von Puttkamer.

Reichsmarshal Herman Goerring at once went to Hitler upon learning of what had happened, the Berlin broadcast said.

A source in London with close European connections said the incident probably occurred at Breda, Holland, reported to be the headquarters of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

This same source, who cannot be identified by name, said the critical question of reserves for the German armies on three fronts had provoked a split between Rommel and Field Marshal Gen. Guenther von Kluge, commander of the forces in Normandy. He speculated that the incident might have resulted from a general division of the German staff, resulting in a brawl.

It was the second time, at least, during the war that Hitler narrowly missed death.

The first time was on Nov. 8, 1939 when a bomb exploded in the Munich beer hall just after the (Turn to Page Eleven)

Texas Delegation Still Undecided

By TEX EASLEY
Chicago, July 20—(P)—The Democratic convention fast approached a climax today, but the Texas representation situation remained in a high state of confusion.

Delegates from both the "rump" and "regular" delegations were uncertain shortly before the second day's session began which group would cast the state's 48 convention votes, even though the odds were on the anti-fourth term regulars.

A platform plank embodying the principles of the resolutions adopted in Texas by the "regular" state convention group drew the attention of the party's policy makers. They were considering a plank drawn by former Governor Dan Moody of Texas, chairman of the "regular" delegation. Touching on the question of negro voting and segregation in public schools,

Wallace is Gaining Strength in Fight To Be Renominated

First Caucus Vote and Hotel Corridor Talk Plainly Indicate Vice President Is Still Very Much in the Running

UNCOMMITTED DELEGATIONS SHOW NEW TREND

BULLETIN

Chicago Stadium, July 20—(P)—Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said today, in a speed-up of plans, that President Roosevelt would be nominated for a fourth term at this afternoon's national convention session. The president will accept by radio tonight—probably late. The exact time has not been announced. Previously it had been planned to go through the certain business of nominating Mr. Roosevelt tonight. Whether the change would permit the convention to reach vice presidential nominations tonight remained conjectural.

By JACK BELL

Chicago Stadium, July 20—(P)—Henry A. Wallace, regarded by many as all but counted out only 24 hours ago, hit the comeback trail in his fight for renomination today, while Senator Harry S. Truman, his leading rival, gained the open support of one of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Postmaster General Frank Walker told reporters: "I'm for Truman."

Two other cabinet members, however—Attorney General Francis Biddle and Interior Secretary Harold Ickes—stood firm for Wallace. Biddle is a Pennsylvania delegate, as is Walker, while Ickes is an Illinois delegate-at-large.

Wallace himself was absent from the convention today. Wallace's backers were cheered by addition of 16 Kansas votes to his column.

Kansas, its 16 convention votes previously unpledged, caucused and balloted to give them to the toutsed Iowa—possibly indicating a new trend among some of the previously uncommitted delegations.

Backers of Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, however, conceded nothing—many predicting his nomination over Wallace on the first or second ballot.

Truman himself told reporters, however, "I'm not campaigning for anything."

Asked if he had talked to President Roosevelt, he replied "no." With 684½ votes still unpledged and unclaimed, Wallace had 154½ votes claimed and 165 pledged outright. Total of 319½. Truman had Missouri's 32 pledged outright, with 589 needed to nominate, but apparently had been promised support from big city organizations.

As the convention prepared to renominate President Roosevelt and hear his acceptance by radio, tonight, the lines for the Wallace-Truman struggle were drawn by party leaders. These were headed by National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, vigorously backing his 60-year-old fellow Missourian.

But Wallace, as today's first caucus vote and hotel corridor talk plainly indicated, made it tough for the strategists who wanted to eliminate him and name the chairman of the senate's war investigating committee on the first ballot.

Belgian Patriots Staging A Revolt

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 20—(P)—An underground revolt in Belgium was reported tonight in a special communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters.

The communique said the Belgian patriots had joined with the extensive French underground in harassing action against the Germans.

Extensive French activity was reported.

The French were said to have destroyed 26 bridges in ten days and made widespread attacks on the Germans, forcing them to abandon three towns in the main department.

"A complete train carrying flying bombs in eastern France was destroyed by French forces of the interior," the special communique said.

Clarendon Soldier Killed In Action In France June 13th

A letter which came Wednesday from the adjutant general's office in the War Department informed Mrs. Mary Swartz, 119 Railroad street, Clarendon, that her son, Pvt. Stanley Swartz, was killed in action in France on June 13.

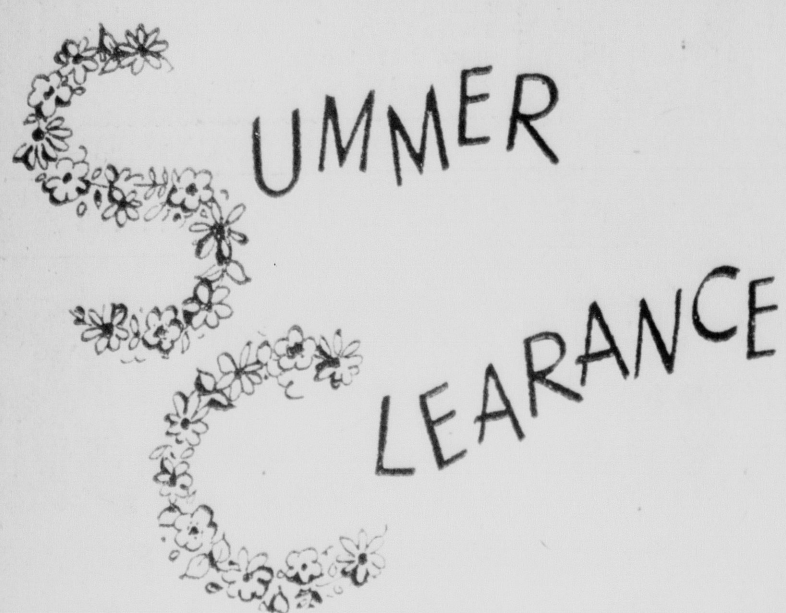

There were no further details concerning the young infantryman, the letter stating that "unfortunately, reports of this nature contain only the briefest details as they are prepared under battle conditions and the means of transmission are limited."

Pvt. Swartz has been overseas since about the first of February, going to England from his port of embarkation. He was inducted into service on April 24, 1942, and had his basic training at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Later he had additional training at Camp Gordon, Ga.; Fort Dix, N. J.; Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., for amphibious instruction and at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He was born July 11, 1910, in English Center in Lyncum county but had resided in Clarendon most of his life. He attended schools in Mead township and Clarendon borough before coming to Warren to be graduated from high school in 1928. Prior to his induction he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He was a member of St. Clara's Catholic church.

Besides his mother, he is survived by one sister and one brother, Miss Janina and Wade Swartz, both at home.

Outing Club Crowds Cheer Entertainers

At the Outing Club this week Joe Bevevino has done it again and brought to the city a splendid bit of entertainment in the floor show at the Club. The show of course is headed by Nino Reppepi who in the estimation of the Warren folk has Frank Sinatra backed off the boards. Reppepi really has a voice and uses it in a splendid manner.

Bob Hamman has a fine novelty in his act. With a troupe of really fine performing feathered friends his act is one that goes over big and is pleasing to the crowds. Hal Sherman, an impersonator of radio, stage and screen stars is also a hit and Rene Gail in an acrobatic novelty is a finished artist who wins much applause. The bill is well balanced and affords some excellent entertainment.

The picnic grounds of the club are in use daily and are open to the members and their friends. The tennis courts are developing some speedy players and the bathing beach is also much enjoyed. The Club is filling a big place in Warren life and is a splendid place for a real outing.

Steuermagel of the Aviation Cadet Board of Erie will be at the National Guard Armory, Hickory street, Thursday evening, July 20th, at 7:00 p. m. to interview young men 17 years of age who are interested in making application for air crew training, and will give screening examinations to all applicants at that time.

The young men interested in air crew training are requested to report to Lt. V. C. Burkhard of Civil Air Patrol at the National Guard Armory Thursday night, and an appointment will be arranged with Capt. Steuermagel.

Lot Owner Sends Out An SOS For A Weed Cutter

Gosh, a woman called up this morning and scolded an S. O. S. for some person to cut the weeds producing weeds that are ambling, straying and covering her vacant lot. "I have been trying for six weeks to get somebody to cut my weeds," said the woman "and as yet I just can't get anyone to do it and I can't do it myself. I have called the Employment office and they do not have a man listed as a weedcutter."

The suggestion was made that the borough boys would be around pretty soon if the weeds were not whittled down to lawn size but the woman let out a groan "they charge so like heck and I just would sort of hate to have those borough men have to cut my weeds".

So if there are any fellows possessed of a scythe and a strong back who feel that they can aid civic beauty and relieve a damsel in distress they should get into The Times-Mirror office and let themselves be known so that the woman can have her weeds leveled and her neighbors freed of the painful sneezes, wheezes and snuffles that are just about due.

Dwelling Burns As Gasoline Stove Lets Go

Explosion of a gasoline stove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Yankee Bush yesterday afternoon destroyed the home with all of its contents and badly burned Mrs. Gray. The explosion took place about 5 p. m. when Mrs. Gray was lighting the fire to prepare the evening meal. In some manner the stove exploded scattering flaming gasoline over the room in which it was placed. The home is a small one and it burned like tinder and nothing was saved, the couple losing all of their furniture and clothing.

The flames engulfed Mrs. Gray and she was badly burned about the face, neck, arms and hands. Her husband aided in getting her out of the blazing room and in beating down the flames. Reports from the hospital today are to the effect that her condition is good.

Neighbors were attracted by the flames but were powerless to check the fire which soon swept through the small building.

Many gardeners report that their gardens have dried up to such an extent that their crops will suffer.

OF SAVED KITCHEN FAT IS THE GOAL OF
FAT SALVAGE IN 1944

War Food Administration estimated that during peacetime, 500,000,000 pounds of cooking fat were thrown away every year! Salvage goal for 1944 is only half that amount, or 230,000,000 pounds—one pound every month from every family. Scrape every pan and plate, skim every soup and gravy. Used cooking fat still brings you four cents and 2 red ration points per pound.

Mrs. James Rogers
Power For Good

Orchids grow high in trees and from the topmost niches should be gathered some of the very finest for Mrs. James Rogers who during the past years has given unsparingly and unstintingly of her time and money in the aid of young and old of the city. Many a wayward girl can thank her lucky stars that she met Mrs. Rogers and her ministrations are many and mostly unheralded so quietly and kindly has she given aid.

Mrs. Rogers was a strong force in the Children's Aid Society and did much to further the work of that organization and in the formation of the YWCA she worked untiringly. Much of the success of the organization came from the sound foundation which was laid by the women who started the movement and among the leaders was Mrs. Rogers.

In this small quest for women of the city who have done yeoman work in making the city life better for the young people tribute must be paid to Mrs. Rogers. Not only has she aided the young but older folk too remember well the kindnesses which she has extended. All too often the efforts of men and women to aid their fellow travellers on life's pathway are forgotten and it is felt that bouquets should be given while the folk receiving them are still with us.

ARE PARK CONSCIOUS

Warren people are more conscious of their parks this year than ever before and the various parks about the city are being used more than in years passed. Washington Park atop the hilltop north of the city daily attracts scores who find the fireplaces and tables most suitable for out of door suppers. Crescent Park is also growing in popularity and the fireplaces there are being increased and more and more tables built as funds allow. The playgrounds adjacent to the park with its equipment also adds to the pleasure of the picknickers. Most of the Sunday Schools of the city will hold their outings in Crescent Park and a number have already been held.

Warren Girls Have Picked Ten Tons of Ripe Cherries

The girls from Warren who have volunteered their services for the emergency war effort of picking cherries, picked 10 tons of cherries in their first week, according to reports made by C. C. Winans, emergency farm labor assistant.

Of the 50 girls that went from Warren there was only one who had to return home during the first week and that was due to illness. Some of the girls made as much as $25.00 for their first week.

McCord's Cabins where the girls are living are situated in a beautiful secluded spot in a grove of maple trees on Lake Erie. The cabins were furnished with all new mattresses and bedding and their beds are the double-decker type. It is reported that the food is excellent and the girls have an opportunity to go bathing, under the direction of the life guard, every day. Most of the girls are anxious that they will be able to stay until all the cherries are picked which will be about the end of July.

The following is the list of girls who volunteered their services: Teresa Adams, Alice Alexander, Emily Alexander, Joyce Beebe, Maxine Beebe, Marjorie Boyer, Loraine Bogen, Ina Carlson, Betsy Conaway, Doris Day, Alice Decker, Roberta Decker, Elsie Dunkle, Gladys Erickson, Joann Frontera, Constance Gertsch, Alberta Gillett, Dorothy Gillett, Nema Glassman, Olga Glassman, Mary Glenn, Bertha Gustafson, Virginia Hale, Meredith Hutchings, Mary Lou James, Jean Jones, Mrs. Paul Kierman, Dora Messner, Nellie Miller, Ruth Miller, Joyce Mintzer, Jean Peterson, Louise Paul, Joanne Peterson, Elaine Pierce, Carol Proud, Mrs. Clair Proud, Eleanor Sailor, Ann Saylor, Eva Schultz, Emogene Simones, Dorothy Smith, Pauline Smith, June Sweetland, Barbara Thompson, Coleen Walker, Glynneth Wall, Martha Winans.

LUDLOW

CHURCH

A sunrise service was held on Sunday at seven-thirty o'clock in the Ludlow Community Park with the Reverend Carl Nelson of Wilcox delivering the sermon based on the nineteenth psalm. There was a good attendance. The contributing numbers were much appreciated and were especially beautiful in the morning's freshness and in the exquisite setting. The opening number was a trumpet solo, "The Holy City," by Robert Johnson followed by the regular liturgical service. Miss Evelyn Norlin, soprano of Sheffield sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" which was followed by a song by the Moriah Lutheran church entitled "The Voice of a Psalm." The sermon was then given and the offertory was taken with another trumpet solo at that time. Miss Norlin gave another number and the choir followed this with an anthem titled "Come With Rejoicing." The service closed with the benediction given by Reverend Nelson. In spite of the shower which came immediately after the closing of the service, several families enjoyed their breakfast in the shelter.

The Martha Society of the Lutheran church held its regular meeting on July 12 in the church parlors. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, who also conducted the devotionals and prayer. Mrs. Carlson gave a reading written by Chaplain Bengtson. Business was conducted as usual. It was decided to have a lawn social instead of the regular August meeting. The social will occur on the evening of August ninth on the church lawn with a committee composed of the following members: Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Mrs. Albert Bramstang, Mrs. Gust Carlson, Mrs. Jalmer Mattison and Mrs. Enoch Nelson. The following program was given: Reading—Mrs. Silas Johnson; piano solo Mrs. Enoch Nelson; reading, Mrs. Axel K. Anderson; accordion solo, Mrs. Ed Wenstran. The benediction followed. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Ed Wenstran and Mrs. Aaron Alfson.

The Ludlow Ladies' Aid held their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the park as a tureen luncheon. There were fifteen members and guests present. This group always work at the Red Cross rooms on the Tuesday afternoon following their regular meeting.

The Lutheran Brotherhood was entertained on Thursday evening at the church with Mr. Axel Nelson and E. W. Johnson as hosts. The meeting was conducted by the president, Clyde Gilfert, with devotionals and prayer given by the Reverend Carl Nelson of Wilcox. During the business meeting it was decided to have Forest Herron of Allegheny, N. Y., landscape the church property. The program followed: Reading, Evert Johnson; piano solo, Paul Johnson; reading, Ernest Swanson; vocal solo, Doris Johnson; reading, Clyde Gilfert; piano solo, Robert Johnson; reading, Enoch Nelson. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Ludlow Community Auxiliary held a cake and pastry walk on Friday evening at the I. O. O. F. Hall with a large attendance. The men of the organization contributed the pastries. Music was furnished by the Park's victrola and loud speaker with E. W. Johnson and Enoch Nelson acting as master of ceremonies. Pop was sold at a stand. The committee for the evening was Mrs. Andrew Bair, chairman, Mrs. Clyde Gilfert, Mrs. George Anderson and Mrs. Gust Anderson assisted by several daughters of organization members. About forty-five dollars was earned.

The annual American Legion Auxiliary luncheon was held on July 11 at the park with eleven members and one guest present. A family picnic will be held next month.

Chapter 10

ANGEL, in a blue satin housecoat, sat down at the piano and ran her fingers lightly over the keys. "Quaint things—these old uprights," she said, laughing and glancing over her shoulder at Louise, who was cleaning the living room. "I haven't touched one in ages. I thought the species was extinct."

Louise gave the floor lamp a vicious swipe with the dust cloth, but said nothing. Martha had bought the piano for Angel's fourteenth birthday, ten years ago. When the crash came, she had refused to sell it. And they'd moved it from Forest Hills to Brooklyn, at considerable expense, just because it was Angel's.

Angel played a few bars from Brahms, then sang an aria from Lohengrin in a voice so enchanting that Louise stopped dusting to listen.

Martha, hearing the piano, had come out of the kitchen. Unknown to her daughters, she was standing in the door, her hands covered with flour, a wistful smile on her pale face. "Why, it's like old times," she whispered, and felt the sting of tears in her eyes. She turned quickly and tiptoed back to the kitchen. They must not see her cry.

charity affairs and benefits, of course."

"YOU should," said Louise. "You've got a lovely singing voice, and it would be nice if you could do something about it. Besides, you should get out more."

"That's what Dick says. Mother thinks so too. But about my voice lessons—well, something would have to be done about this old piano first. What we really should have is a new piano. But I suppose that's out of the question. Or is it?" she added eagerly.

Louise stopped dusting to stare at her sister. Was Angel completely out of her mind? She had been there about two months now. While both Louise and Martha had tried to shield her from any unpleasantness, any feeling of dependency, Angel must know how carefully they had to budget their expenditures in order to get by at all. She must have seen how their meager income was stretched. She must have seen how they had to pay the light bill one week, gas and insurance bills the next, and setting aside a few dollars each week toward the rent. Weeks ago Martha had given up her job to help care for Baby Jeanne; Angel's allotment had not come through—and there was no income at all, other than Louise's salary.

"I'm afraid it's out of the question, darlings," Louise managed at last.

"Then we'll call a repair man in right now and get the old heirloom fixed up," said Angel, unperturbed. "Now that I'm here to play for you, you'll want to use the piano for your party tonight. I might be persuaded to sing for your guests."

Louise returned to her cleaning. There was no use explaining to Angel. Besides, there were sandwiches to make, and a thousand and one things to do. Today was her day off, and tonight was her turn to entertain the group of young people from the plant who got together occasionally for an evening of dancing and fun.

"Shall we call a repair man in?" Angel repeated, when Louise didn't answer.

"I'm afraid we can't do that either," said Louise after a moment's hesitation. "Not today, anyhow. We can dance to the radio, if the piano's too bad."

"But why can't we do it today?" demanded Angel in an aggrieved voice. "I suppose you don't want me to sing for you."

LOUISE laughed in spite of herself. It seemed ridiculous that any girl of Angel's age could behave so much like a spoiled child. But she said, with as much patience as she could summon:

"If you must know the horrible truth, darling, we're a little short on cash at the moment. This happens to be rent week. You know—it's the week we don't eat very much. In fact, we're so broke it isn't even funny."

"But you're throwing a party," Angel reminded her petulantly. "I notice you manage to do all the things you want to do. But to hear you talk, anyone would think we were paupers."

Louise tried to laugh, but it was a feeble sound. "It isn't much of a party, darling. Mother's just making cookies, and I'm grinding up the old ham bone for sandwiches. And we aren't exactly paupers. We're still got the pig-bank, and pay-day's a-coming."

Angel's lips curled in a smile of derision. "You know, Louise," she said slowly, "I've always thought you had a common streak in you. Now I know you have. You get quite a kick out of being poor, don't you?"

LOUISE stared at her for a moment. Then, without saying a word, she got up and ran down the hall to the kitchen. A few seconds later she returned with a case-knife and a penny bank shaped like a fat pig in her hand. She gave them to Angel, saying:

"So you thought I was trying to be funny, did you? You think I like being poor? If you must know, I hate it almost as much as you do! I'd like to do something for Mother and Bobby—and for you, too, Angel. But I can't do a thing, so I try not to think about it."

"Oh," said Angel, but there was still disbelief in her eyes.

"So you still don't believe me," cried Louise bitterly. "You still think I'm trying to be funny. Well, here it is—the pig-bank! It's all we've got. But it ought to be enough to put the darned old piano in shape—if that's what's eating on you. Maybe you'll get a kick out of digging out the pennies. Have fun, Sis."

She started to go out the door, but turned back when Angel burst into tears. She went over to her sister and put a hand on her arm. "I'm sorry, Sis," she said. "I'm just an old meanie, I guess. If you really want the piano fixed, today, I'll run out and phony the repair man."

Angel, smiling through her tears, clasped her hands together like a pleased child. "Oh, will you! That's wonderful!" She began to jiggle the pig-bank from side to side, but nothing happened. "I—I'm afraid I wouldn't know how to manipulate this weird contraption you have here—your pig-bank, I mean."

"Never mind," Louise told her. "I'll do the honors when I get back. I'm used to it. There ought to be almost fifteen dollars in that pig—all in pennies."

ANGEL dried her tears, put the pig-bank on the table, and went back to sit on the piano seat. "I—I hope you don't think I'm unreasonable, Louise," she said after a little while. "It's just that it's terribly important to me that we get the piano fixed today. Dick Stanley's coming tonight, and he's bringing a man to hear me sing—an entertainer of some sort. It might mean a job for me, and I don't think it'll interfere with your party."

"Interfere?" exclaimed Louise, her blue eyes shining with enthusiasm. "I should say it won't interfere. It's seldom we have an entertainment at our little shindigs. Who is the man Dick's bringing?"

"Steve Turcot. I think he's an orchestra leader or something. I never heard of him before, but Dick says he travels around to defense plants, putting on entertainments for the workers in their lunch hours—or whenever it is they eat."

Louise looked at Angel quizzically. "And would you like that sort of thing?"

Angel shrugged. "Probably not. But at the moment it's the best that offers itself. If you're on the stage already, I suppose it's easy to get breaks. But if Steve Turcot thinks I'm good enough for his shows, perhaps I can work it the other way and get a job in a night club."

LOUISE regarded her sister with some amazement and a vague sense of pity. Angel had surprised her with her ambitions to have a career. It had not occurred to Louise that Angel had a definite goal in mind, that she was working out a plan that would enable her to earn her own way. Of course it would mean that her mother would have to take care of Baby Jeanne all the time, but Martha adored the child and would not be happy away from it. So, if Angel wanted to sing, more power to her.

"But I don't think you ought to bank on it too much," Louise warned. "I don't want to see you get hurt, Angel."

With a little laugh, Angel turned around. "Why, I believe you're actually worried, darling. There's no reason to worry about me. Of course my voice is nothing really—it's only a parlor voice. But I'll get along. Watch and see."

"But—but if you really think your voice won't make good—"

"Why do I try?" Angel laughed again. "You're such a child about some things, Louise. In this world of ours, dear—you don't have to do anything well. All you have to do is to make some man think you can, and get him plugging for you. I've already got Dick Stanley plugging, and he hasn't even heard me sing. Now if Steve Turcot gets me to sing at a few defense plants, and I'll see that he does," she added grimly. "I'll stick it out until I meet someone who can put me in a night club. It's as simple as that. If you use your head a little, it isn't hard to get along."

Louise was sickened by this philosophy of Angel's—even a little ashamed for her sister. But she offered no word of criticism or doubt. Angel must do as she thought best.

"I'll get the piano tuner," she said quietly, and slipped from the room.

Earl E. Young Purchases the Hull Store At Youngsville

Youngsville, July 20—A business transaction of more than local interest took place this week in Youngsville when the H. H. Hull and Co. Furniture Store and Funeral Parlor was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Young to be known in the future under the trade name of Earl E. Young and Company.

This old and well established business was opened in Youngsville in 1907 when Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hull moved from Grand Valley where they had conducted a similar business. They built that year in Youngsville a fine two-story brick store for furniture and also established an undertaking business. This new store on Main street was two stories with the show rooms and business portion on the lower floor and two dwelling apartments on the second floor.

In 1914, Earl E. Young began work for the H. H. Hull Company and except for a leave of absence during the World War I when he served with the U. S. armed forces, he has continued with this well known and enterprising firm.

In 1930 when the entire business section of Youngsville was swept with fire, the H. H. Hull

Store was burned to the ground and was soon rebuilt on the same location at the corner of Main street and North Main street. The new building was also of brick but built on modern lines and one story high with a large storage basement below and a commodious funeral parlor as well as store rooms.

Within a short time after the building of the store H. H. Hull died and Mrs. Hull has successfully headed the firm until her sale of this week when the business passed into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young.

Mr. Young is a graduate of the Eckles College of Embalming and a member of the National Funeral Directors Association. His many years of experience with the company have given him a thorough knowledge of the furniture business and he will continue the well established and worthy record of the store for honesty and reliability.

Mrs. Earl E. Young, who has been since 1928 a bookkeeper at the Johnson Brothers store will now take over the business office of the new firm of which her husband is head and Mrs. Brockway will continue her position in the store.

Paper Drive Will Yield 20 Tons In Three County Towns

PAPER DRIVE . . . art . . . About 20 tons of paper were picked up in Warren, Youngsville and Russell yesterday and placed on cars ready for shipment. This is considered an excellent showing as the last paper pickup was held on June 21st when over 30 tons were gathered and shipped. The reports this morning show that in Warren borough a little over 12 tons were secured; Youngsville and Russell each had about two and one-half tons. The showing made by Russell was excellent as there are only about 650 people in that village.

The next pickup will be on August 30 when the whole county will take part and Chairman Wylie

Corbett, of the Salvage committee urges that all begin at once to plan for that gathering. Mr. Corbett says "If we all get busy now and start work we should have a huge amount of waste paper. It is just beginning to be understood over the state that waste paper is a most essential thing in the war effort and the folks on the home front can aid materially in licking Hitler and Hirohito if they all get behind this next paper drive. I certainly would like to see Warren county bring in over 100 tons and we can do it."

In addition to gathering two and one-half tons of paper yesterday there were over 500 pounds of rags gathered in Youngsville.

Top-Notch Team Coming To Wilder Field This Weekend

When the Dormont baseball club comes to Wilder Field at Irvine to meet the National Forge next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, fans will see one of the teams which has consistently held a top position among semi-pro outfits of western Pennsylvania.

For many seasons the club has rated as the best in the Pittsburgh district. Last year the Dormont team was one of the few clubs to defeat Mike Cannavino's Erie Sailors (not the present Pony League team).

The same Dormont team played several games in Titusville a few seasons ago, representing Titusville under Cannavino's management. The club proved popular with the fans of that section and drew large crowds.

The Forgers themselves have an enviable record this season, having won fifteen out of sixteen starts against the best available teams in this section. Only Honus Wagner's All-Stars from Pittsburgh have been able to turn the trick and by a thin margin.

Facing the Dormont Club next Sunday will be Dick Hines, at present the leading pitcher for the National Forge. Hines has won six games without a setback and he vows he will make it a lucky seven against Dormont.

The hitting department of the Forge team held up well against the All-Stars last Sunday as the locals outthit the visitors by a margin of two bingles. Unless Dormont shows better pitching than the All-Stars did, the locals expect to continue the hot pace which they have seen in his department since he season opened.

Game time Sunday, as usual, will be 3 p. m.

Yankee-Brown Series Answers St. Louis Attendance Problem

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

St. Louis had an answer to its attendance problem today in the 31,361 paid customers for the first two games of the Yankee-Browns series for the American League lead.

Although 31,361 represents a fair Sunday crowd in some big league towns, it is roughly 20 per cent of the Browns total home draw and is calculated to ease the pain of last night's 6-5 setback by the New Yorkers.

Only last week the St. Louis Americans were sending out questionnaires to the fans asking "why don't you support the Browns?" Joe McCarthy's champs came to town trailing by two games and the fans started to flock through the turnstiles.

Last night's fray could have been the key to the race although the season does not end until Oct. 1. If the Browns had won, their lead would have measured four games in the early stages of a long home stand.

Johnny Lindell's 3-run homer was the big blow in a Yankee four-run rally dooming Sig Jacucki and giving Ernie Bonham his fourth straight.

Detroit continued to come on strong since the return of Dick Wakefield, taking six of eight starts and going into a fourth-place tie by yesterday's 2-1 nod over Washington as Stubby Overmire outbowed Dutch Leonard in 10 heats.

Chicago finally cracked Boston's "hex" after dropping 11 straight to the Red Sox and captured a 5-4 game on five runs in the fifth. Orval Grove got credit for his eighth victory, snapping Joe Bowman's five-game win streak.

Ken Keltner paced Cleveland to a 7-1 slaughter of Philadelphia with four hits for a perfect day, while Specs Kileman chucked his seventh victory at Bobo Newson's expense.

Bucky Walters failed to go the route in a night game for the first time this season but kept intact his seven-game win streak as Reliever Arnie Carter took the loss in a 10-5 shellacking by Brooklyn. Les Webber, the second of three Brook hurlers, came up with the win that moved the Dodgers back into sixth place.

Ken Raffensberger missed a shutout by one inning but held on for Philadelphia's 4-2 edge over Pittsburgh's Nick Strincevich in a Shibe Park night outing. Nate Andrews graduated into the 10-win class by hurling Boston to a 6-1 nod over Chicago with Bob Chipman suffering the defeat.

St. Louis and New York Nationals were not scheduled.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 20—(P)—The Jamestown Falcons broke a four-all tie in the seventh inning to beat the Wellsville Yankees 6-4 in a Pony League game last night.

Falcon Pitcher Lyle Bliss had a perfect night at bat. In four trips, he connected for a homer, two doubles and a single and scored three runs.

The Erie Sailors got revenge on the Hornell Pirates, who tumbled them from fourth place Tuesday, by scoring a 13-0 victory. The Sailors regained their old position in the standings, replacing the Pirates who dropped a notch.

In another hitting contest, the Olean Oilers won a 10-1 game from the third place Batavia Clippers. Lockport defeated Bradford 6-3.

Little Fellows Put On Show This Evening

New York, July 20—(P)—Little fellows put their kayo punches on parade tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Ike Williams, the Trenton, N. J. lightweight who specializes in upsetting fighters never upset before, tangles with Julie Kogan of New Haven, Conn., in the 10-round main event. Williams is a 5 to 1 favorite.

Williams had 43 victories in his 44 professional fights, his only loss being a last-round knockout at the hands of Bob Montgomery, holder of the New York version of the lightweight crown.

Other slugging stars on the show are Chicago's lightweight, Freddie Dawson, unbeaten in 28 starts as a professional, and Billy Arnold, Philadelphia welter who has won 20 of his 22 pro fights by knockouts.

Dawson meets Ruby Garcia, rugged Puerto Rican, in a six-round, while Arnold engages Bernie Miller of Harlem in another half-dozen rounds.

NELSON-M'SPADEN SALT LAKE FAVORITES

Salt Lake City, July 20—(P)—Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the golfing twins, played across the 6,375 yard Fort Douglas course in sub-par practice rounds that clinched their favored positions in the $2,500 Utah open starting tomorrow.

On the basis of the practice rounds yesterday, McSpaden had a slim edge over Nelson. The Jug shot the par-72 course in 66, missing a chance to tie the course record when he missed a putt on the 17th for a bogey. Nelson was one stroke behind at 67.

Fans Enthusiastic Over Game At Russell Field On Sunday

Since the announcement in Tuesday's paper that the Struthers Wells Baseball Club is bringing the Sylvania Foresters Club from Emporium for a game at Russell Field this Sunday, enthusiasm amongst the fans has been running high.

The fact that this is the first game to be played in Warren this year, and that a club of the calibre of Emporium has been booked should point to a good attendance. Also much interest has been added in the fact that many of the men working at the Sylvania plant, worked with most of the players on the Emporium roster while they were located at Emporium.

The Struthers management has done everything possible to insure the comfort of the fans at this game. They have erected bleachers down the first base foul line to accommodate about 600 people, the playing field itself has been put in the best possible shape and for those fans who prefer to sit in their cars, one of the back gates will be opened and the fans will be allowed to park either on the third base line or in the outfield.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock and will be the first of several games, both week day twilight games and Sunday games that the Struthers team will play here provided the fans indicate that they want baseball here the rest of the season.

Announcements as to the starting lineups and umpires will probably be made in tomorrow's paper.

A new electrical "hot sandw" de-dicer has been developed for propellers of planes that fly at stratosphere levels; it consists of a rubber boot made from three layers of synthetic rubbers.

During the invasion of Africa and subsequent battles there, an average of 84 per cent of the wounded were able to return to duty after 90 days.

It is estimated that 22,500 man-hours are required to build the average U. S. bomber.

IT'S WAR SHORTAGE NO. 1

Fastest Filly Will Team Up With Pensive

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Chicago, July 20—(P)—Twilight Tear, fastest filly in America, is about ready to cash in on her million dollar legs.

The sensational 3-year-old daughter of Bull Lea-Lady Lark, triumphant in her last ten races, will be coupled with her stable mate, Pensive, Kentucky derby-Preakness winner, in the $80,600 Arlington classic Saturday and they appear to have the race at their mercy.

So much, in fact that not more than five horses—maybe only four, smallest field in the 16-year history of the race—will go to the post in what previously was rated among the nation's top ranking races for 3-year-olds.

Twilight Tear and Pensive are the entry of Warren Wright of Chicago, owner of the famed Calumet farm stable trained by Ben Jones.

Wallace Is Gaining Strength In Fight To Be Renominated

that the name of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia would be placed in nomination for the presidency by Mrs. Fred T. Nooney of Jacksonville, Fla.

Oscar W. Ewing, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, says Roosevelt's renomination may come around 3 p. m. Central War Time.

Mississippi caucused and voted to cast its 20 votes for former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana for vice president.

Senator James O. Eastland predicted Mississippi's votes would be switched to Truman whenever it becomes apparent Sam Jones cannot win.

North Dakota caucused and voted to give its eight votes to Wallace.

Chairman Hannegan said it was possible the convention would reach a vote on the vice presidential choice tonight, but believed it would likely be the balloting for second place would go over until tomorrow.

A prospective convention floor fight over the southern demand for restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule was averted, despite adverse action by the rules committee. The vote was 23 to 10, but the southerners agreed not to file a minority report and carry the fight to the convention floor after the whole committee unanimously recommended a study of reapportionment, a report to be made within two years.

Word came from the platform drafting resolutions committee that a racial plank was being considered which would declare that all minorities, including negroes, have the right to "vote equally with white citizens." There was no immediate indication whether southerners would accept this language.

Former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, it became known, has decided to vote his opposition to a fourth term for Roosevelt by casting his New York delegate ballot for Senator Byrd.

Brushing his hair back out of his eyes and signing an autograph in almost the same motion, Wallace told reporters crowding around the cornstalk high Iowa standard:

"All I know is that there is strong evidence of a fine liberal sentiment in this convention and it is encouraging."

Later, in an after-midnight speech to several hundred delegates from western states, Wallace said he had been called a "radical" because he had insisted that it was possible to raise the standard of living for all the people.

Jittery convention officials wondered, too, what sort of changes Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley might make in a Roosevelt nominating speech which he wrote in advance, then drew back for last-minute revisions. Barkley, it became known, planned to confer with Wallace today.

There was a certain amount of anger attributed to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, who quit the second place fight after he got a thumbs down from President Roosevelt. This took the form of a communication to Hannegan listing Truman as second choice to Wallace, and 45-year-old William O. Douglas, of the Supreme court, as third.

Tumacacori national monument had 7287 visitors during 1940. It is located in Arizona.

Dates Selected For Next Two Recreation Night Programs

The success of the Community Recreation Night last Friday has given added impetus to the committee planning the remaining events of the summer recreation program, sponsored by the Community P.T.A. Council. The committee met on Sunday evening, selecting July 28th and August 11th as the dates for the next community parties. If the weather permits, outdoor dancing on the Beauty court will again be a feature. There will be badminton, ping pong, and shuffleboard again in the gymnasium. The committee also promises some new features, which will be announced later.

Mrs. Walter Mathyer, president of the P.T.A. Council, has asked the Times-Mirror to express her appreciation to all those who cooperated with such a fine spirit to make the Community Recreation Night such an outstanding success. This includes over 300 individuals and several organizations.

The Warren School Board has permitted the use of the Beauty School facilities in these activities. Appreciation is expressed to Superintendent Rossman for his cooperation and members of the school faculty who have assisted in the supervision, including Mr. Harris, Mr. Miller, Mr. Summers, Mr. Leidig, Mr. Griffin and Mr. Carlson. Mr. Baxter, head custodian of the school buildings and his assistants were also very cooperative.

The Committee on Community Recreation, at the request of the Community P.T.A. Council, has been responsible for the plans. A special party committee, headed by Robert Wilder, is cooperating in all of the parties.

The Y.M.C.A. Softball League, the High School Bands, under the direction of Mr. Summers, the Warren Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Kolpin, head of the borough playgrounds program, all contributed to the evening's program. Special credit should be given to Mac McCarthy and his orchestra for their generosity in furnishing the music for the young people's party on the outdoor court.

The Warren Times-Mirror and Jamestown's Radio Station, WJTN, assisted in keeping the public informed about the plans for this community event. Appreciation is expressed for the Times-Mirror's contribution of free space. Acknowledgements for other courtesies are made to the E. D. Youngsville Perfect Lady Lands In Jail

A perfect lady from Youngsville came to Warren yesterday to do a bit of shopping and to enjoy the sights and sounds of the county seat. She shopped well and often until last night she found herself tired and rather well filled with the contents of the cup that cheers and inebriates. So when she saw a house in the far end of Pennsylvania avenue she concluded that would be a good place to rest. So she entered the house by the gentle method of hoisting a foot through one window and then crawling through.

The sound of the tinkling glass falling from the window raised the neighbors and they put in a call for the coppers. The police responded and saw the place where the window ought to be. Then they heard gentle footsteps on the upper floor. Then the lady swept down the stairs. She said she had heard the window smash but knew nothing of what happened. A cut on her wrist just couldn't be explained and finally she said she kicked in the window and crawled in. So she was escorted to the county jail and given a place to retire.

The man who owns the house wants a new window.

A man who had also been pergerinating from one oasis to another garnering many and sundry potions was also locked up last night. He had started to tote his load to his bungalow and when part way there realized his load was heavy and the night was young so lay down to sleep on a lawn on Pennsylvania avenue west. His sweet dreams were interrupted by the police and he finished his slumbers on the unyielding slats of the police station.

Investigation was made of one of the Lyons Transportation Company's trucks which was forced off the road in front of the home of Dr. F. G. Haines. The truck driver, E. H. Horton, of Rochester, N. Y., claims a Pontiac car owned by the Weigel Motor Company swung into the line of traffic and to escape a collision the big truck was forced off the highway. Several small pipes were broken off and the trucking company will take care of the damage.

HEAVY OPPOSITION ENCOUNTERED NEAR TROARN

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 20—(P)—British armor, slashing forward in several directions, has cut into good tank fighting country on a broad front five miles southeast of Caen and the Germans have been unable to stabilize their lines in the third day of the offensive, despite their best efforts, supreme headquarters announced today.

Heavy fighting was raging, however, around a German anti-tank screen in the Emville-Frenouville area from two to three and a half miles southwest of Troarn, a railway center eight miles east of Caen.

MIDDLE REICH BLACKENED BY AIR ARMADA

London, July 20—(P)—In great, coordinated attacks on Germany for the third straight day, 2,000 British based American planes bombed a profusion of oil and airplane plants around Leipzig and another fleet from Italy pummeled airdromes in the Munich and Friedrichshafen areas today.

The skies of central Germany were blackened by more than 1,200 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and up to 750 fighters. An armada of like strength levelled objectives around Munich and from Saarbrücken on the French frontier to Schweinfurt in southeast Germany yesterday.

Fifth Army Reaches Lower Arno Along 25-Mile Front

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, July 20—(P)—American troops, reaching the south bank of the lower Arno river on a 25-mile front in hot pursuit of the Germans fleeing to their Gothic line defenses beyond the river, have captured Colle Salvetti, seven miles northeast of Allied-held Livorno. Allied headquarters announced today.

The latest town to fall to the Americans, fanning out against decreasing Nazi resistance, is about 10 miles southeast of Pisa, on a highway leading directly to that important enemy anchor position.

German opposition was confined largely to sniping parties armed with automatic weapons as United States forces seized the last high ground held by the Germans south of the Arno river, and laid down artillery fire which left the enemy without any alternative than retreat.

At the other end of the front Polish and Italian units pushed on from the west coast port of Ancona and cut the coastal road at Torrette a Mare, nearly three miles west of the city. Another column, with armor, sped along the inland route in the Adriatic sector and established a bridgehead over the Esino river, 10 miles west of Ancona and south of Chiaravalle.

The enemy left much valuable equipment in the Ancona sector. Torrential rains impeded movements on the entire battlefield, but both the Fifth and Eighth armies made steady progress.

The Fifth Army gained three to four miles and captured Certaldo, San Appiano, Vico D'Elia, Poppiano, Linari and San Donato. A five-mile gain was made beyond Castellina. Advance elements were less than three miles south of the important road junction of Castellina.

OVER SUPPLY OF SNAP BEANS IN PROSPECT

Harrisburg, July 20—(P)—Housewives in Pennsylvania were advised today by Secretary of Agriculture Miles H. Easton that snap beans now for canning.

"Prices are low and wastage of large quantities of important wartime food can be avoided," said Easton in pointing out that an over-supply faced farmers in some sections.

Meanwhile virtually all of the state's farm crops were showing the effect of drought conditions, with scattered showers bringing only slight relief in some localities.

SOVIETS PUSH FIGHTING INTO EAST PRUSSIA

German Army Shows Signs of Breaking In Hotly Contested Battleground West of Niemen River

SMASH BUG DEFENSES

EDITOR'S NOTE: Daniel De Luce, veteran Associated Press war correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winner, has arrived in Moscow from the Italian front to cover the Russian offensive, now driving across Poland. De Luce was in Poland when the Germans invaded that country in 1939, later covered the war in Greece and escaped from that country to Turkey. He subsequently was in Burma when the Japanese attacked, covered the British retreat and then went to North Africa where he followed the Eighth Army drive across Tunisia. His first dispatch from Moscow follows.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, July 20—(P)—The German Army showed signs of breaking in the hotly contested battleground west of the Niemen river before East Prussia today as seven fronts flamed in battle.

(The German radio said Russian troops had reached Augustow, at the base of the Suwalki triangle which was annexed to East Prussia out of Polish territory in 1939. The town is eight miles from the pre-war frontier of East Prussia.)

The string of German-held cities of Lwow, Brest Litovsk, Bialystok, Kaunas and Daugavpils was tottering, with the Russians fighting to the outskirts of Lwow in southern Poland and possibly in the suburbs of Brest Litovsk in northern Poland.

In the south the Russians for the first time had smashed through the Bug river defense which from 1939 to 1941 formed the dividing line between Russia and German-held Poland.

In the newest of their power-packed offensives near the Latvian republic's northeast corner, Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's third Baltic Army crossed the Velikaya river south of Ostrov and made swift progress toward middle Latvia, the frontier only nine miles away.

The Soviet air force was out in a strength never before equalled, giving sure cover for masses of tanks, cavalry and infantry which swarmed over the Germans from the western Bug river to the bogs of the north.

Last reports said that barely eight miles northeast of Lwow the Russian had four to five German divisions completely pocketed in the rear at Brody.

Premier Stalin's high command reported gains in many sectors of the 600-mile front, along which the prized objectives of Kaunas, Daugavpils (Dvinsk) and Brest Litovsk were nearly within the Red army's grasp.

Battle-scarred Lwow, hub of six important rail lines and in Soviet hands the last time in 1941, appeared certain to be lost by the reeling German defenders, who fell back over 13 miles in the last 24 hours.

PORT CHICAGO DEATH TOLL STANDS AT 322

Port Chicago, Calif., July 20—(P)—The death toll of the explosion of two ammunition-laden ships here Monday night stood at 322 today with a navy announcement of 213 names of men known to be dead or missing.

In addition to the navy list issued last night, known dead or missing included 69 merchant sailors, 31 members of armed guard crews aboard the vessels, five coastguardsmen and four civilians caught in the blast.

91-Year-Old Mother Of Truman Speaks Up

Kansas City, July 20—(P)—The 91-year-old mother of Sen. Harry S. Truman (D-Mo.) doesn't want her son to be vice-president. She thinks he should stay in the senate where "he can do more good."

Mrs. Martha E. Truman, who will be 92 November 25, recalls that she told her son last week, just before he left her home in suburban Grandview, Mo., for the Democratic national convention in Chicago, that he should remain a senator. She adds:

"Harry said, 'I'd rather be'. And he meant it."

The sprightly mother of the man who is reported to be President Roosevelt's second choice, behind Vice-President Wallace, for a running mate in the November elections sat in her old-fashioned rocker last night and listened to the convention by radio.

Japan's Debacle In Losing Saipan and Imminent Loss of Guam Forces Tokyo Upheaval

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Japan has thrown out the Tojo government which carried it into war and called today on two 64-year-old militarists to pick a new cabinet—which faces the Canute-like task of trying to halt the tide of Allied power now lapping at Nippon's very shores.

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, the "razor-brained" army leader who has directed Japan's Pacific war since it started, was stripped of power Tuesday, Tokyo radio belatedly announced, and his entire cabinet fell with him.

Keynoter Has Answer For Dewey Speech

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Chicago, July 20—(P)—Inspired by the rip-roaring keynote speech of a towering, sombrero-wearing oilman-governor, the four-term Democrats laid their 1944 campaign strategy squarely on the line today and it amounted to this:

If, as Republican Thomas E. Dewey says, President Roosevelt and his new deal colleagues are "tired old men," so are Churchill, Stalin and Chiang Kai-Shek.

The 42-year-old Dewey raised the age issue when he became the Republican nominee; the Democratic challenger, Gov. Wendell Willkie, countered by saying that the "tired old men" were the Japanese.

It was built around one theme—a change in administration while the nation is at war.

Six foot three and beaming beneath a snow white 10-gallon hat, Kerr depicted his party under Roosevelt as the party of achievement; the Republicans as exemplified by Dewey as untested with no program except to "oppose."

The Oklahoma brought down the crowded house with reference to "twelve long years when America has been under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover."

ATTEMPT ON HITLER'S LIFE IS REPORTED

Berlin Radio Announcement Says Fuehrer Is Burned and Bruised; Others Are Injured

SCENE IS UNREVEALED

By the Associated Press
London, July 20—(P)—Berlin announced that Adolf Hitler was burned and bruised in an unsuccessful bombing attempt on his life today.

The Fuehrer's military leaders were seriously injured, while his chief military advisor Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl was less seriously hurt along with five other generals and two admirals.

The broadcast said one German broadcast said the attempt on Hitler's life was "by dynamite," another mentioned "explosives" and still a third said merely "an attempt was made on the life of the Fuehrer today, Thursday."

The broadcast announcement did not give the scene of the attack, but it obviously took place while Hitler was surrounded by high members of the military staff—perhaps at Hitler's headquarters.

The announcement came 16 hours after Tokyo's announcement of the fall of Premier Hideki Tojo, and Berlin said Hitler after the attack received Benito Mussolini, third member of the ill-starred trio who led the Axis into war.

Among seriously injured, Berlin said, was Lt. Gen. Schmudt, chief of the German army's personnel department and chief military aide de camp to Hitler for several years.

Two lieutenant colonels named Brandt and Borgmann, and a "collaborator" named Berger also were listed as seriously injured.

Slightly injured were these: General Jodl, Hitler's personal military aide; Karl Bodenschatz, aide to Hitler; Guenther Korten, chief of staff of the German air force; Buhle, Heusinger and Walter Scherff.

Admirals Voss and Von Puttkamer.

Reichsmarshal Herman Goerring, at once went to Hitler upon learning of what had happened, the Berlin broadcast said.

A source in London with close European connections said the incident probably occurred at Breda, Holland, reported to be the headquarters of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

This same source, who cannot be identified by name, said the critical question of reserves for the German armies on three fronts had provoked a split between Rommel and Field Marshal Gen. Guenther von Kluge, commander of the forces in Normandy. He speculated that the incident might have resulted from a general division of the German staff, resulting in a brawl.

It was the second time, at least, during the war that Hitler narrowly missed death.

The first time was on Nov. 8, 1939 when a bomb exploded in the Munich beer hall just after the (Turn to Page Eleven)

Wallace is Gaining Strength in Fight To Be Renominated

First Caucus Vote and Hotel Corridor Talk Plainly Indicate Vice President Is Still Very Much In the Running

UNCOMMITTED DELEGATIONS SHOW NEW TREND

BULLETIN

Chicago Stadium, July 20—(P)—Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said today, in a speed-up of plans, that President Roosevelt would be nominated for a fourth term at this afternoon's national convention session. The president will accept by radio tonight—probably late. The exact time has not been announced. Previously it had been planned to go through the certain business of nominating Mr. Roosevelt tonight. Whether the change would permit the convention to reach vice presidential nominations tonight remained conjectural.

By JACK BELL

Chicago Stadium, July 20—(P)—Henry A. Wallace, regarded by many as all but counted out only 24 hours ago, hit the comeback trail in his fight for renomination today, while Senator Harry S. Truman, his leading rival, gained the open support of one of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Postmaster General Frank Walker told reporters: "I'm for Truman."

Two other cabinet members, however—Attorney General Francis Biddle and Interior Secretary Harold Ickes—stood firm for Wallace. Biddle is a Pennsylvania delegate, as is Walker, while Ickes is an Illinois delegate-at-large.

Wallace himself was absent from the convention today.

Wallace's backers were cheered by addition of 16 Kansas votes to his column.

Kansas, its 16 convention votes previously unpledged, caucused and balloted to give them to the toutsled Iowa—possibly indicating a new trend among some of the previously uncommitted delegates.

Backers of Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, however, conceded nothing—many predicting his nomination over Wallace on the first or second ballot.

Truman himself told reporters, however, "I'm not campaigning for anything."

Asked if he had talked to President Roosevelt, he replied "no." With 684½ votes still unpledged and unclaimed, Wallace had 154½ votes claimed and 165 pledged outright—total of 319½. Truman had Missouri's 32 pledged outright, with 589 needed to nominate, but apparently had been promised support from big city organizations.

As the convention prepared to renominate President Roosevelt and hear his acceptance by radio, tonight, the lines for the Wallace-Truman struggle were drawn by party leaders. These were headed by National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, vigorously backing his 60-year-old fellow Missourian.

But Wallace, as today's first caucus vote and hotel corridor talk plainly indicated, made it tough for the strategists who wanted to eliminate him and name the chairman of the senate's war investigating committee on the first ballot.

Racial Plank Question Mark At Convention

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Chicago, July 20—(P)—Democratic platform drafters were reported today to be considering a racial plank declaring, among other things, that racial minorities, including negroes, have the right to "vote equally with all citizens."

Whether southerners would accept this language without a floor fight is a huge question mark over the party convention.

There still was a possibility the full 100-member platform committee would revise the language of its 12-member drafting group before the platform is presented to the convention this afternoon.

Southerners crowded around the platform committee room all morning, seeking to learn the official wording on the racial plank, which will go a long way in determining whether party harmony can be restored in the south, where many sided with the Germans.

Extensive French activity was reported.

The French were said to have destroyed 26 bridges in ten days and made widespread attacks on the Germans, forcing them to abandon three towns in the main department.

A complete train carrying flying bombs in eastern France was destroyed by French forces of the interior, the special communique said.

Wheeler, Ga. Later he had additional training at Camp Gordon, Ga.; Fort Dix, N. J.; Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., for amphibious instruction and at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He was born July 11, 1910, in English Center in Lyeon county, most of his life. He attended schools in Mead township and Clarendon borough before coming to Warren to be graduated from high school in 1928. Prior to his induction he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He was a member of St. Clara's Catholic church.

Besides his mother, he is survived by one sister and one brother, Miss Janina and Wade Swartz, both at home.

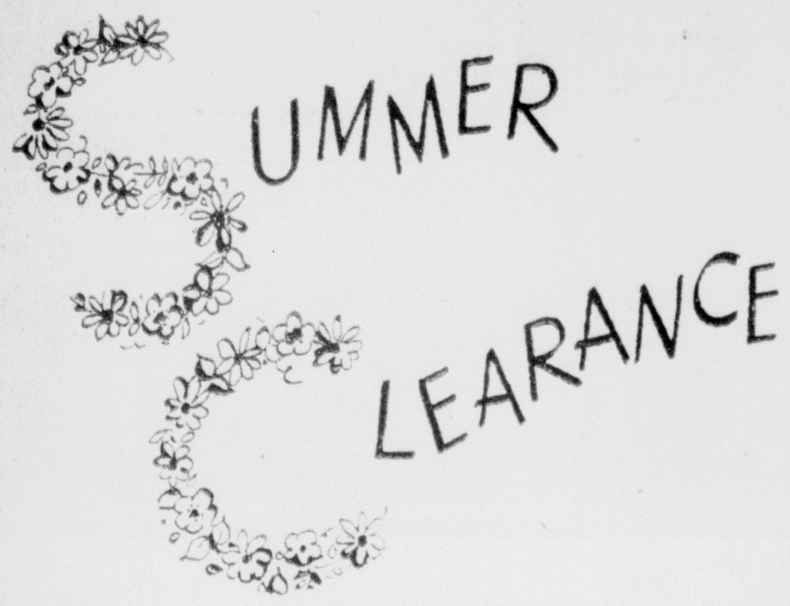

TEXAS DELEGATION STILL UNDECIDED
Chicago, July 20—(P)—The Democratic convention fast approached a climax today, but the Texas representation situation remained in a high state of confusion.

BRUSHSTON STORE BOMBED
Pittsburgh, July 20—(P)—Police today sought clues in the bombing of a suburban Brushston confectionery store after Richard Hall, the owner, could ascribe no motive for the early morning blast which caused damage of $1,000.

Outing Club
Crowds Cheer
Entertainers

At the Outing Club this week Joe Bevevino has done it again and brought to the city a splendid bit of entertainment in the floor show at the Club. The show of course is headed by Nino Reppepi who in the estimation of the Warren folk has Frank Sinatra backed off the boards. Reppepi really has a voice and uses it in a splendid manner.

Bob Hamman has a fine novelty in his act. With a troupe of really fine performing feathered friends his act is one that goes over big and is pleasing to the crowds. Hal Sherman, an impersonator of radio, stage and screen stars is also a hit and Rene Gail in an acrobatic novelty is a finished artist who wins much applause. The bill is well balanced and affords some excellent entertainment.

The picnic grounds of the club are in use daily and are open to the members and their friends. The tennis courts are developing some speedy players and the bathing beach is also much enjoyed. The Club is filling a big place in Warren life and is a splendid place for a real outing.

Young Men To
Have Chance
For Air Forces

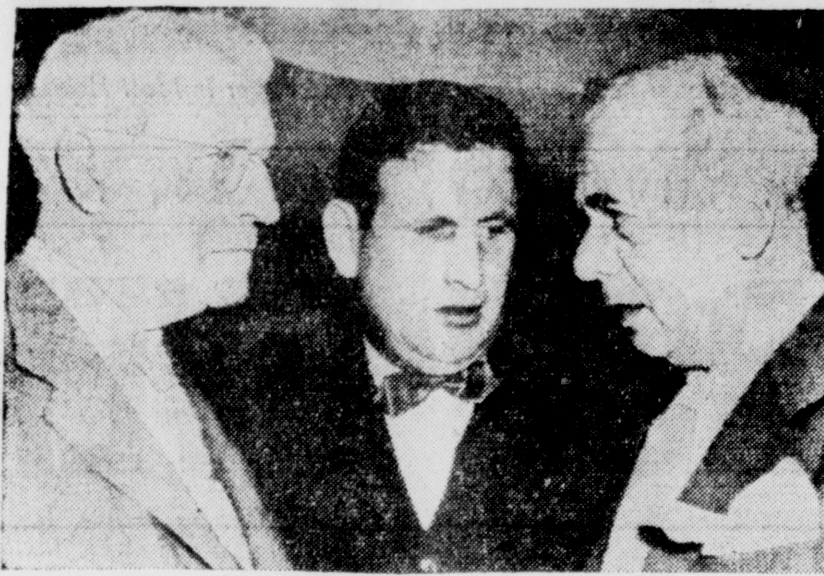

Capt. Walter J. Steuergel of the Aviation Cadet Board of Erie will be at the National Guard Armory, Hickory street, Thursday evening, July 20th, at 7:00 p. m. to interview young men 17 years of age who are interested in making application for air crew training, and will give screening examinations to all applicants at that time.

All young men physically fit and mentally alert who desire to enter the Army Air Forces should see Captain Steuergel Thursday evening and make arrangement for enlistment in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve.

Young men who are accepted by the Air Corps will be permitted to continue their studies for six months following their 18th birthday before they will be ordered to report for duty. Their training, if accepted for air crew, will cover a period of approximately ten months and the type of training which these young men will receive cannot be duplicated.

The young men interested in air crew training are requested to report to Lt. V. C. Burkhardt of Civil Air Patrol at the National Guard Armory Thursday night, and an appointment will be arranged with Capt. Steuergel.

Louisiana's singing governor, Jimmy Davis, leads revolting southern Democrat delegates in singing, "It Makes No Difference Now" amid shouts of "Dedicate it to Wallace" at Chicago convention. Texas and Louisiana anti-fourth term joined Mississippi in caucusing to support Sen. Harry F. Byrd for the presidential nomination.

Lot Owner Sends Out An
SOS For A Weed Cutter

Gosh, a woman called up this morning and scolded an S. O. S. for someone to cut the sneeze producing weeds that are ambulating, straying and covering her vacant lot. "I have been trying for six weeks to get somebody to cut my weeds", said the woman "and as yet I just can't get anyone to do it and I can't do it myself. I have called the Employment office and they do not have a man listed as a weedcutter".

The suggestion was made that the borough boys would be around pretty soon if the weeds were not

Dwelling Burns
As Gasoline
Stove Lets Go

Explosion of a gasoline stove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, Yankee Bush yesterday afternoon destroyed the home with all of its contents and badly burned Mrs. Gray. The explosion took place about 5 p. m. when Mrs. Gray was lighting the fire to prepare the evening meal. In some manner the stove exploded scattering flaming gasoline over the room in which it was placed. The home is a small one and it burned like tinder and nothing was saved, the couple losing all of their furniture and clothing.

The flames engulfed Mrs. Gray and she was badly burned about the face, neck, arms and hands. Her husband aided in getting her out of the blazing room and in beating down the flames. Reports from the hospital today are to the effect that her condition is good.

Neighbors were attracted by the flames but were powerless to check the fire which soon swept through the small building.

Law Officers
Hold Meeting
At Bradford

Sixty law enforcement officers including District Attorney Goldstein, Sheriff and Deputy L. E. Linder and Sanford Secor with Lieuts. M. Evan and Gordon Munn, of the police department attended the conference of the FBI held at Bradford yesterday. The meeting was held at the Mullhaupt lease at Songbird where the demonstrations in shooting could be given.

Special Agent H. T. Connors of the Pittsburgh FBI office was in charge of the session, which included a firearms demonstration, with trick shooting and use of machine guns, shot guns and pistols explained. A talk on "Road Blocking" was given by Captain Joseph G. McCann of the State police. Moulage casts were also discussed.

Dinner was served to the group at 1 o'clock. The arrangements for the conference were made by Chief of Police Edward Edmonds, of Bradford.

WAIT UNTIL AUG. 14th

GUARDS TAKEN OFF

In an effort to co-operate with the manufacturers of the country the government has taken off the guards at the various dams and locks of the three rivers in the Pittsburgh district. At the same time five extra guards which have been patrolling at the Tionesta dam have been relieved.

LIGHTNING HITS HOME

Fire Chief Albright was called upon to make an investigation at the home of Floyd Nuhfer, 205 Parker street where lightning entered the house during the storm at 1:30 this morning. The lightning came in on a radio aerial and broke a window and ripped off some lath and plaster in the attic. However no fire followed.

STORM SWEPT SECTION

Warren and vicinity was visited by a heavy rain storm about 1:35 this morning and for a time the rain came down in torrents. Heavy thunder and sharp lightning accompanied the rain and the display kept many awake. The rain was welcome but was not sufficient to relieve the drought that has been assailing this vicinity for several weeks. Many gardeners report that their gardens have dried up to such an extent that their crops will suffer.

FALL OF TOJO GOVERNMENT

By MORRIS J. HARRIS, chief of the Shanghai Bureau of The Associated Press at the time of Pearl Harbor and later a war prisoner of the Japanese Japan's Tojo has quit.

He, that nation's supreme warlord who personified its tyranny over East Asia and boasted before the world that Japan's "place in the sun" was as master of the globe, has walked out "in the face of a grave situation."

In the words of the Japanese government, as broadcast by its propaganda agency, "it has been decided to strengthen the cabinet by a wider selection of the personnel." Emperor Hirohito is "much concerned" about Japan's "present situation" and War Lord Tojo and his now ex-cabinet "is filled with trepidation."

Many and diverse will be the explanations out of Tokyo as to why Tojo and his band had to quit, but in plain American they will add up to the fact that the noose is around Japan's neck. American military power is tightening the rope and the Japanese are beginning to squirm. Someone must be the goat and that unpleasant role has fallen to Tojo and his gang. They are not the first to fall victims to military and political expediency in Japan. Nor will they be the last.

The fall of the Tojo government indicates that at last the real import of the situation into which Japan flung herself is beginning to sink into the collective Japanese mind. Since the Mikado's navy made its sneak raid on Pearl Harbor, or even before, and up to now, the inevitable results of what Japan has been doing in the Far East for at least a dozen years has been hidden from the Japanese public by a screen of airtight censorship, control of the printed word and speech, and lies.

But "truth will out," and that is what is happening in Japan today. Someone over there is beginning to ask "why?" to countless questions to which only Warlord Tojo and his cohorts who dreamed of conquering the world know the answers, but hope to evade the responsibility of a reply.

Some of these questions are: "In the face of promises to the contrary, why has our campaign in the South Seas failed? Why have we failed to consolidate our first round gains in the Dutch East Indies and elsewhere in southeast Asia? Why has the war in China dragged on for years when it started out under the banner of merely an 'incident of a few months'?"

These are mere samples of what has caused Tojo and his cabinet to fall. And now some questions that won't be denied: "Why are American planes bombing vital military targets in Japan?" and now the climax to date, "why have we lost Saipan, which is virtually in our front yard?"

Japan's realization that she is losing the war is taking hold of her people and will increase. That does not mean our war in the Pacific is over. There remains much there to be done, but the fall of Tojo, who had a grip on his people the like of which had not been seen there in modern times, means Japan's seemingly indestructible determination to keep on fighting is beginning to crack.

WHY THE BIG STAMPS?

A couple of new three-cent stamp issues recently released by the post office department seem to indicate that this vast government organization is little concerned with wartime shortages of paper and other materials.

One of these stamps celebrates the centennial of the telegraph. The other celebrates the achievement of the first crossing of the Atlantic Ocean by steamship.

Laudable motives, both, but—

Each stamp is twice the size of the average postage stamp. Each uses, therefore, twice as much paper, twice as much glue, twice as much engraving.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Can the Underground Be of Military Assistance?

J. Alvarez del Vayo
Editor of Political War Section of THE NATION

As debated by

Harry Desmond Warren
Author of SABOTAGE—How To Guard Against It

MR. DEL VAYO OPENS: The invasion has proved the French underground a far more significant and powerful force than some adventure films or sensational reporting may have led us to believe. Politically, it is the foundation for the Europe of tomorrow. Of that there can be no doubt. Nor can there be doubt about the determination of the people of Europe that their will shall be implemented. If anyone had reservations on that score, let him think on the few hours which Gen. Charles de Gaulle spent on the Normandy coast and the lesson they implied. But in the military field as well as the political, the importance of the underground cannot be exaggerated. The necessary secrecy of military operations in France has, until now, prevented us from forming an exact idea of what the underground has accomplished since the unforgettable morning of June 6th. But we know one thing: the underground has acted with an extraordinary sense of discipline. On that very point—discipline—some doubt may have been justified. It was not unreasonable to suppose at the moment of invasion, heroic as the underground has proved itself, enthusiasm might have pushed it into premature action. Unquestionably, such behavior would have hampered Gen. Eisenhower. But the underground is led by men who know how to master their emotions and who have become leaders through four terrible years of fighting and waiting.

MR. FARREN CHALLENGES: Current events within Rome vividly prove: underground factions are political, not military, organizations. In Rome philosophical chaos has resulted. This poses a grave problem for military and AMG leaders. Add to this the "flexibility" of Anglo-American policy—the hard-headed direction of Soviet policy—the repudiation of the Atlantic Charter—the warmth for Badoglio—the cold shoulder to de Gaulle—the "recognition" of Tito—the "dismissal" of Mikhalovich—the fence-walking with Franco—the magnificent snarl between governments—Belle and those on the spot, ad infinitum, and you have utter confusion. How can the underground operate to our advantage in this dual fog?

MR. DEL VAYO REPLIES: Underground factions are political. This war is a political war, more than any war before. It is a war to destroy fascism. Until that is achieved, there can be neither a real total victory nor total peace. Just because they are political organizations, full of political fighting spirit against fascism, the underground movements constitute the best ally the United Nations can find in any country to implement the final attack against Nazi Germany. If, instead of being political anti-fascist organizations, they were composed of people like those who brought Munich and the policy of appeasement to life, their usefulness to Gen. Eisenhower would be relative indeed.

MR. FARREN REPLIES: The underground will erupt violently as each country is liberated by advancing Allied armies. As a dynamic instrument for revolution—for the liquidation of collaborationist Quislings—its force will certainly be felt. On the heels of liberation the underground, as it has in Italy, will integrate into opposing factions, all of them seeking immediate power. This will breed civil war creating new bloodshed, new hatreds, new leaders. The wrath of the underground will be spent, not on the hated Nazis already gone, but on those elements within their native lands whose words and deeds have not met with the approval of organized minorities.

Hollywood Gossip

By JACK O'BRIAN
AP Drama Editor

(One star means poor, four means excellent.)

★★★"Double Indemnity," with Fred MacMurray, Barbara Stanwyck and Edward G. Robinson.

JAMES M. CAIN writes tough, hard-boiled, American-style novels which sometimes are almost impossible to transcribe to the screen. With "Double Indemnity," however, the flavor of Cain's brooding, intense literary style has been moved over to the other medium in an extremely workmanlike fashion.

The story is more than slightly reminiscent of the Ruth Snyder-Judd Gray case of a few years back, in which a woman murdered her husband, with the help of her lover, for his insurance.

THERE is no mystery about the film. The murder is plotted and committed as the movie unfolds. The lovers are brought together by their dual plotting and separated by the mutual distrust and common terror of their entanglement.

MacMurray and Barbara Stanwyck are the lovers. Edward G. Robinson plays a tough insurance investigator and succeeds in making it one of his most notable roles.

It is a violent film with only one shortcoming—the fact that it is done via the flashback style. It would have been better played straight.

Billy Wilder, who directed as well as helped write the screen adaptation, is to be credited with a suspenseful job, one of the best screen thrillers in some time. It also is quite good as a psychological study of two people held together with homicidal bonds. It definitely is to be recommended.

★★★"Home in Indiana," with Walter Brennan, Lee McCullister, Jeanne Crain, Charlotte Greenwood and June Haver.

THE attractive qualities of "Home in Indiana" are its beautiful color, its engaging players and the mild flurry over harness racing. On its debt side is a particularly slow story, pleasant but quite ordinary dialogue and lack of plot.

It utilizes the old chestnut of a film script in which the owner of a once-brilliant string of harness horses, now reduced to one old blind mare, gets back into the big time with the help of a young nephew who turns out to be a fine driver.

It is a modestly pleasant movie with all its shortcomings.

Mrs. James Rogers Power For Good

Orchids grow high in trees and from the topmost niches should be gathered some of the very finest for Mrs. Bess King Rogers who during the past years has given unsparingly and unstintingly of her time and money in the aid of young and old of the city. Many a wayward girl can thank her lucky stars that she met Mrs. Rogers and her ministrations are many and mostly unheralded so quietly and kindly has she given aid.

Mrs. Rogers was a strong force in the Children's Aid Society and did much to further the work of that organization and in the formation of the YWCA she worked untiringly. Much of the success of the organization came from the sound foundation which was laid by the women who started the movement and among the leaders was Mrs. Rogers.

In this small quest for women of the city who have done yeoman work in making the city life better for the young people tribute must be paid to Mrs. Rogers. Not only has she aided the young but older folk too remember well the kindnesses which she has extended. All too often the efforts of men and women to aid their fellow travellers on life's pathway are forgotten and it is felt that bouquets should be given while the folk receiving them are still with us.

ARE PARK CONSCIOUS

Warren people are more conscious of their parks this year than ever before and the various parks about the city are being used more than in years passed. Washington Park atop the hilltop north of the city daily attracts scores who find the fireplaces and tables most suitable for out of door suppers. Crescent Park is also growing in popularity and the fireplaces there are being increased and more and more tables built as funds allow. The playgrounds adjacent to the park with its equipment also adds to the pleasure of the picknickers. Most of the Sunday Schools of the city will hold their outings in Crescent Park and a number have already been held.

LUDLOW CHURCH

A sunrise service was held on Sunday at seven-thirty o'clock in the Ludlow Community Park with the Reverend Carl Nelson of Wilcox delivering the sermon based on the nineteenth psalm. There was a good attendance. The contributing numbers were much appreciated and were especially beautiful in the morning's freshness and in the exquisite setting. The opening number was a trumpet solo, "The Holy City," by Robert Johnson followed by the regular liturgical service. Miss Evelyn Norlin, soprano of Sheffield sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" which was followed by a song by the Moriah Lutheran choir entitled "The Voice of a Psalm." The sermon was then given and the offertory was taken with another trumpet solo at that time. Miss Norlin gave another number and the choir followed this with an anthem titled "Come With Rejoicing." The service closed with the benediction given by Reverend Nelson. In spite of the shower which came immediately after the closing of the service, several families enjoyed their breakfast in the shelter.

The Martha Society of the Lutheran church held its regular meeting on July 12 in the church parlors. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, who also conducted the devotionals and prayer. Mrs. Carlson gave a reading written by Chaplain Bengtson. Business was conducted as usual. It was decided to have a lawn social instead of the regular August meeting. The social will occur on the evening of August ninth on the church lawn with a committee composed of the following members: Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Mrs. Albert Branstanger, Mrs. Gust Carlson, Mrs. Jalmar Mattson, Mrs. Enoch Nelson. The following program was given: Reading—Mrs. Silas Johnson; piano solo Mrs. Enoch Nelson; reading, Mrs. Axel K. Anderson; accordion solo, Mrs. Ed Wenstran. The benediction followed. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Ed Wenstran and Mrs. Aaron Alfson.

The Ludlow Ladies' Aid held their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the park as a tureen luncheon. There were fifteen members and guests present. This group always work at the Red Cross rooms on the Tuesday afternoon following their regular meeting.

The Lutheran Brotherhood was entertained on Thursday evening at the church with Mr. Axel Nelson and E. W. Johnson as hosts. The meeting was conducted by the president, Clyde Gilfert, with devotionals and prayer given by the Reverend Carl Nelson of Wilcox. During the business meeting it was decided to have Forest Herron of Allegheny, N. Y., landscape the church property. The program followed: Reading, Evert Johnson; piano solo, Paul Johnson; reading, Ernest Swanson; vocal solo, Doris Johnson; reading, Clyde Gilfert; piano solo, Robert Johnson; reading, Enoch Nelson. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Ludlow Community Auxiliary held a cake and pastry walk on Friday evening at the I. O. O. F. Hall with a large attendance. The men of the organization contributed the pastries. Music was furnished by the Park's victrola and loud speaker with E. W. Johnson and Enoch Nelson acting as master of ceremonies. Pop was sold at a stand. The committee for the evening was Mrs. Andrew Bair, chairman, Mrs. Clyde Gilfert, Mrs. George Anderson and Mrs. Gust Anderson assisted by several daughters of organization members. About forty-five dollars was raised.

The annual American Legion Auxiliary luncheon was held on July 11 at the park with eleven members and one guest present. A family picnic will be held next month.

Blonde in Brooklyn

Chapter 10

ANGEL, in a blue satin housecoat, sat down at the piano and ran her fingers lightly over the keys. "Quaint things—these old uprights," she said, laughing and glancing over her shoulder at Louise, who was cleaning the living room. "I haven't touched one in ages. I thought the species was extinct."

Louise gave the floor lamp a vicious swipe with the dust cloth, but said nothing. Martha had bought the piano for Angel's fourteenth birthday, ten years ago. When the crash came, she had refused to sell it. And they'd moved it from Forest Hills to Brooklyn, at considerable expense, just because it was Angel's.

Angel played a few bars from Brahms, then sang an aria from Lohengrin in a voice so enchanting that Louise stopped dusting to listen.

Martha, hearing the piano, had come out of the kitchen. Unknown to her daughters, she was standing in the door, her hands covered with flour, a wistful smile on her pale face. "Why, it's like old times," she whispered, and felt the sting of tears in her eyes. She turned quickly and tiptoed back to the kitchen. They must not see her cry.

Angel played the opening strains of Valse Caprice, and then her slim white hands came down on the keys with a crash. The nostalgic moment was gone. "Sorry," she said. "I'm afraid I've forgotten that little number. It was a silly thing anyhow. You know, Louise, I've decided to brush up on my voice lessons. Dick Stanley—the cameraman, you remember?—thinks I should. He says I should be singing—at

Chapter 11

LOUISE stared at her for a moment. Then, without saying a word, she got up and ran down the hall to the kitchen. A few seconds later she returned with a case-knife and a penny bank shaped like a fat pig in her hand. She gave them to Angel, saying: "So you thought I was trying to be funny, did you? You think I like being poor? If you must know, I hate it almost as much as you do! I'd like to do something for Mother and Bobby—and for you, too, Angel. But I can't do a thing, so I try not to think about it."

"Oh, said Angel, but there was still disbelief in her eyes. "So you still don't believe me," cried Louise bitterly. "You still think I'm trying to be funny. Well, here it is—the pig-bank! It's all we've got. But it ought to be enough to put the darned old piano in shape—if this whole eating on credit thing you'll get a kick out of digging out the pennies. Have fun, Sis."

She started to go out the door, but turned back when Angel burst into tears. She went over to her sister and put a hand on her arm. "I'm sorry, Sis," she said. "I'm just an old meanie, I guess. If you really want the piano fixed, today, I'll run out and phone the repair man."

Angel, smiling through her tears, clasped her hands together like a pleased child. "Oh, you! That's wonderful!" She began to jiggle the pig-bank from side to side, but nothing happened. "I'm afraid I wouldn't know how to manipulate this weird contraption you have here—your pig-bank, I mean."

Blonde in Brooklyn

"Never mind," Louise told her. "I'll do the honors while I get back. I'll use it. There ought to be almost fifteen dollars in that pig—all in pennies."

ANGEL dried her tears, put the pig-bank on the table, and went back to sit on the piano stool. "I—I hope you don't think I'm unreasonable, Louise," she said after a little while. "It's just that it's terribly important to me that we get the piano fixed tonight. Dick Stanley's coming tonight, and he's bringing a man to hear me sing—an entertainer of some sort. It might mean a job for me, and I don't think it'll interfere with your party."

"Interfere?" exclaimed Louise, her blue eyes shining with enthusiasm. "I should say it won't interfere. It's seldom we have entertainment at our little shindigs. Who is the man Dick's bringing?"

"Steve Turcot. I think he's an orchestra leader or something. I've never heard of him before, but Dick says he's traveled around to defense plants, putting on entertainments for the workers in their lunch hours—or whenever it is they eat."

Louise looked at Angel quizzically. "And would you like that sort of thing?"

Angel shrugged. "Probably not. But at the moment it's the best that offers itself. If you're on the stage already, I suppose it's easy to get breaks. But if Steve Turcot thinks I'm good enough for his shows, perhaps I can work it the other way and get a job in a night club."

LOUISE regarded her sister with some amazement and a vague sense of pity. Angel had surprised her with her ambitions to have a career. It had not occurred to Louise that Angel had a definite goal in mind, that she was working out a plan that would enable her to earn her own way. Of course it would mean that her mother would have to take care of Baby Jeanne all the time, but Martha adored the child and would not be happy away from it. So, if Angel wanted to sing, more power to her.

"But I don't think you ought to bank on it too much," Louise warned. "I don't want to see you get hurt, Angel."

With a little laugh, Angel turned around. "Why, I believe you're actually worried, darling. There's no reason to worry about me. Of course my voice is nothing really—it's only a parlor voice. But I'll get along. Watch and see."

"But—but if you really think your voice won't make good—"

"Why do I try?" Angel laughed again. "You're such a child about some things, Louise. In this world of ours, dear—you don't have to do anything well. All you have to do is to make some man think you can, and get him plugging for you. I've already got Dick Stanley plugging, and he hasn't even heard me sing. Now if Steve Turcot gets me to sing at a few defense plants, and I'll see that he does," she added grimly. "I'll stick it out until I meet someone who can put me in a night club. It's as simple as that. If you use your head a little, it isn't hard to get along."

Louise was sickened by this philosophy of Angel's—even a little ashamed for her sister. But she offered no word of criticism or doubt. Angel must do as she thought best.

"I'll get the piano tuner," she said quietly, and slipped from the room.

Earl E. Young Purchases the Hull Store At Youngsville

Youngsville, July 20—A business transaction of more than local interest took place this week in Youngsville when the H. H. Hull and Co. Furniture Store and Funeral Parlor was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Young under the trade name of Earl E. Young and Company.

This old and well established business was opened in Youngsville in 1907 when Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hull moved from Grand Valley where they had conducted a similar business. They built that year in Youngsville a fine two-story brick store for furniture and also established an undertaking business. This new store on Main street was two stories with the show rooms and business portion on the lower floor and two dwelling apartments on the second floor.

In 1914, Earl E. Young began work for the H. H. Hull Company and except for a leave of absence during the World War I when he served with the U. S. armed forces he has continued with this well known and enterprising firm.

In 1920 when the entire business section of Youngsville was swept with fire, the H. H. Hull Store was burned to the ground and was soon rebuilt on the same location at the corner of Main street and North Main street. The new building was also of brick but built on modern lines and one story high with a large storage basement below and a commodious funeral parlor as well as store rooms.

Within a short time after the building of the store H. H. Hull died and Mrs. Hull has successfully headed the firm until her sale of this week when the business passed into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young.

Mr. Young is a graduate of the Eekles College of Embalming and a member of the National Funeral Directors Association. His many years of experience with the Company have given him a thorough knowledge of the furniture business and he will continue the well established and worthy record of the store for honesty and reliability.

Mrs. Earl E. Young, who has been since 1928 a bookkeeper at the Johnson Brothers store will now take over the business office of the new firm of which her husband is head and Mrs. Brockway will continue her position in the store.

Paper Drive Will Yield 20 Tons In Three County Towns

PAPER DRIVE . . . art . . . About 20 tons of paper were picked up in Warren, Youngsville and Russell yesterday and placed on cars ready for shipment. This is considered an excellent showing as the last paper pickup was held on June 21st when over 30 tons were gathered and shipped. The reports this morning show that in Warren borough a little over 12 tons were secured; Youngsville and Russell each had about two and one-half tons. The showing made by Russell was excellent as there are only about 650 people in that village.

The next pickup will be on August 30 when the whole county will take part and Chairman Wylie

Corbett, of the Salvage committee urges that all begin at once to plan for that gathering. Mr. Corbett says "If we all get busy now and start work we should have a huge amount of waste paper. It is just beginning to be understood over the state that waste paper is a most essential thing in the war effort and the folks on the home front can aid materially in licking Hitler and Hirohito if they all get behind this next paper drive. I certainly would like to see Warren county bring in over 100 tons and we can do it."

In addition to gathering two and one-half tons of paper yesterday there were over 500 pounds of rags gathered in Youngsville.

Top-Notch Team Coming To Wilder Field This Weekend

When the Dormont baseball club comes to Wilder Field at Irvine to meet the National Forge next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, fans will see one of the teams which has consistently held a top position among semi-pro outfits of western Pennsylvania.

For many seasons the club has rated as the best in the Pittsburgh district. Last year the Dormont team was one of the few clubs to defeat Mike Cannavino's Erie Sailors (not the present Pony League team).

The same Dormont team played several games in Titusville a few seasons ago, representing Titusville under Cannavino's management. The club proved popular with the fans of that section and drew large crowds.

The Forgers themselves have an enviable record this season, having won fifteen out of sixteen starts against the best available teams in this section. Only Honus Wagner's All-Stars from Pittsburgh have been able to turn the trick and by a thin margin.

Facing the Dormont Club next Sunday will be Dick Hines, at present the leading pitcher for the National Forge. Hines has won six games without a setback and he vows he will make it a lucky seven against Dormont.

The hitting department of the Forge team held up well against the All-Stars last Sunday as the locals out-hit the visitors by a margin of two bingles. Unless Dormont shows better pitching than the All-Stars did, the locals expect to continue the hot pace which they have in his department since he season opened.

Game time Sunday, as usual, will be 3 p. m.

Fans Enthusiastic Over Game At Russell Field On Sunday

Since the announcement in Tuesday's paper that the Struthers Wells Baseball Club is bringing the Sylvania Foresters Club from Emporium for a game at Russell Field this Sunday, enthusiasm amongst the fans has been running high.

The fact that this is the first game to be played in Warren this year, and that a club the caliber of Emporium has been booked should point to a good attendance. Also much interest has been added in the fact that many of the men working at the Sylvania plant, worked with most of the players on the Emporium roster while they were located at Emporium.

The Struthers management has done everything possible to insure the comfort of the fans at this game. They have erected bleachers down the first base foul line to accommodate about 600 people, the playing field itself has been put in the best possible shape and for those fans who prefer to sit in their cars, one of the back gates will be opened and the fans will be allowed to park either on the third base line or in the outfield.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock and will be the first of several games, both week day twi-

Little Fellows Put On Show This Evening

Williams has had 43 victories in his 44 professional fights, his only loss being a last-round knockout at the hands of Bob Montgomery, holder of the New York version of the lightweight crown.

Other slugging stars on the show are Chicago's lightweight, Freddie Dawson, unbeaten in 28 starts as a professional, and Billy Arnold, Philadelphia welter who has won 20 of his 22 pro fights by knockouts.

Dawson meets Ruby Garcia, rugged Puerto Rican, in a six-round, while Arnold engages Bernie Miller of Harlem in another half-dozen rounds.

Fastest Filly Will Team Up With Pensive

Chicago, July 20—(P)—Twilight Toss, fastest filly in America, is about ready to cash in on her million dollar legs.

The sensational 3-year-old daughter of Bull Lea-Lady Lark, triumphant in her last ten races, will be coupled with her stable mate, Pensive, Kentucky derby-Preakness winner, in the $80,600 Arlington classic Saturday and they appear to have the race at their mercy.

So much, in fact that not more than five horses—maybe only four, smallest field in the 16-year history of the race—will go to the post in what previously was rated among the nation's top ranking races for 3-year-olds.

Twilight Toss and Pensive are the entry of Warren Wright of Chicago, owner of the famed Calumet farm stable trained by Ben Jones.

Wallace Is Gaining Strength In Fight To Be Renominated

that the name of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia would be placed in nomination for the presidency by Mrs. Fred T. Nooney of Jacksonville, Fla.

Oscar W. Ewing, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, says Roosevelt's renomination may come around 3 p. m. Central War Time.

Mississippi caucused and voted to cast its 20 votes for former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana for vice president.

Senator James O. Eastland predicted Mississippi's votes would be switched to Truman whenever it becomes apparent Sam Jones cannot win.

North Dakota caucused and voted to give its eight votes to Wallace.

Chairman Hannegan said it was possible the convention would reach a decision on the vice presidential choice tonight, but believed it more likely the balloting for second place would go over until tomorrow.

A prospective convention floor fight over the southern demand for restoration of the two-thirds nominating rule was averted, despite adverse action by the rules committee. The vote was 23 to 10, but the southerners agreed not to file a minority report and carry the fight to the convention floor after the whole committee unanimously recommended a study of reapportionment, a report to be made within two years.

Word came from the platform drafting resolutions committee that a racial plank was being considered which would declare that all minorities, including negroes, have the right to "vote equally with white citizens." There was no immediate indication whether southerners would accept this language.

Former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, it became known, has decided to vote his opposition to a fourth term for Roosevelt by casting his New York delegate ballot for Senator Byrd.

Brushing his hair back out of his eyes and signing an autograph in almost the same motion, Wallace told reporters crowding around the cornstalk high Iowa standard.

"All I know is that there is strong evidence of a fine liberal sentiment in this convention and it is encouraging."

Later, in an after-midnight speech to several hundred delegates from western states, Wallace said he had been called a "radical" because he had insisted that it was possible to raise the standard of living for all the people.

Jittery convention officials wondered, too, what sort of changes Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley was making in a Roosevelt nominating speech which he wrote in advance, then drew back for last-minute revisions. Barkley, it became known, planned to concur with Wallace today.

There was a certain amount of anger attributed to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, who quit the second place fight after he got a thumbs down from President Roosevelt. This took the form of a communication to Hannegan listing Truman as second choice to Wallace, and 45-year-old William O. Douglas, of the Supreme court, as third.

Tumacacori national monument had 7287 visitors during 1940. It is located in Arizona.

American Havocs light bombers jabbed against air opposition nearly to the Belgian border, hitting rail yards at Chaulnes, 20 miles east of Amiens where much German activity had been noted. Waves of Marauder medium bombers were reported over the battles in Normandy.

Bad weather restricted night operations over France, but two German planes were shot down. British Mosquito bombers, in their eleventh straight night incursion into Germany, bombed the North Sea port of Bremen.

A low flying ceiling hung over Normandy all day yesterday and chief operations in support of Allied ground forces were medium bomber attacks on bridges and fuel dumps 50 miles or more behind the lines.

British heavy bombers made another dusk attack on inland munition caves in northern France where the Germans store flying bombs which they hurl at London. The Lancasters struck this time at Thiverny, 30 miles northeast of Paris, in their sixth attack in a fortnight.

Friends have received with much interest the news that Mrs. David East, 3rd, who left recently to go to Miami en route to South America, has arrived safely and is in Rio de Janeiro, capital of Brazil.

Maurice Brann, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is here to visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Brann, of the Jamieson apartments. With him is his daughter, the former Shirley Brann, who has been at Camp Meade, Md., with her husband, Lt. William Rapson, assigned this week to an unannounced post in South America.

FOR SALE—Nice comfortable home on Main Street, North Warren, with good furnace and all conveniences. House is now vacant and available for immediate occupancy. Dates Selected For Next Two Recreation Night Programs

The success of the Community Recreation Night last Friday has given added impetus to the committee planning the remaining events of the summer recreation program, sponsored by the Community P.T.A. Council. The committee met on Sunday evening, selecting July 28th and August 11th as the dates for the next community parties. If the weather permits, outdoor dancing on the Beauty court will again be a feature. There will be badminton, ping pong, and shuffleboard again in the gymnasium. The committee also promises some new features, which will be announced later.

Mrs. Walter Mather, president of the P.T.A. Council, has asked the Times-Mirror to express her appreciation to all those who cooperated with such a fine spirit to make the Community Recreation Night such an outstanding success. This includes over 300 individuals and several organizations.

The Warren School Board has permitted the use of the Beauty School facilities in these activities. Appreciation is expressed to Superintendent Rossman for his cooperation and members of the school faculty who have assisted in the supervision, including Mr. Harris, Mr. Miller, Mr. Summers, Mr. Leidig, Mr. Griffin and Mr. Carlson. Mr. Baxter, head custodian of the school buildings, and his assistants were also very cooperative.

The Committee on Community Recreation, at the request of the Community P.T.A. Council, has been responsible for the plans. A special party committee, headed by Robert Wilder, is cooperating in all of the parties.

The Y.M.C.A. Softball League, the High School Bands, under the direction of Mr. Summers, the Retailers' Committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Kolpien, head of the borough playgrounds program, all contributed to the evening's program. Special credit should be given to Mac McCarthy and his orchestra for their generosity in furnishing the music for the young people's party on the outdoor court.

The Warren Times-Mirror and Jamestown's Radio Station, WJTN, assisted in keeping the public informed about the plans for this community event. Appreciation is expressed for the Times-Mirror's contribution of free space.

Acknowledgements for other courtesies are made to the E. D. Everts Hardware Store; The National Exchange; The Masonic Temple; Templeton, Gibson and Peterson's funeral home; N. K. Wendelboe, Metzger-Wright Company, Miller's Shop, and the Marconi Club.

A.'s at McClintock, Lacy, Johnson, and Seneca schools; the Mothers Club at Home Street; the mothers at East Street and South Street; The Pre-School Child Study Group; The Pre-School Mothers Club; The Catholic Daughters made a financial contribution of $5. Store Windows To Advertise WAC Week With Displays

Girl Scouts of Warren, under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Branch, chairman of the WAC Civilian Committee, have secured the promise of local merchants to aid in the Warren WAC Week July 24 to 28.

Storekeepers, in their "all-out for the WAC's" effort, will feature the Women's Army Corps in their window displays all during the week.

Ideas for the exhibits in different stores are offered to the merchants by the Girl Scouts. It is their plan to feature the WAC in connection with the merchandise of each particular store. For instance, a jewelry store will display watches with the theme "It's TIME to join the WAC."

All local stores, whether or not they have been contacted, are asked to cooperate in this campaign. WAC posters and other materials may be obtained by contacting the Girl Scouts, the YWCA or Mrs. Branch at 8 East Third avenue.

Girl Scout members who are working on the project are Nancy Lee and Emma Lou Plummer, Dorothy Bohren and Barbara Carlson.

Youngsville Perfect Lady Lands In Jail

A perfect lady from Youngsville came to Warren yesterday to do a bit of shopping and to enjoy the sights and sounds of the county seat. She shopped well and often until last night she found herself tired and rather well filled with the contents of the cup that cheers and inebriates. So when she saw a house in the far end of Pennsylvania avenue she concluded that would be a good place to rest. So she entered the house by the gentle method of hoisting a foot through one window and then crawling through.

The sound of the tinkling glass falling from the window roused the neighbors and they put in a call for the coppers. The police responded and saw "the place where the window ought to be. Then they heard gentle footsteps on the upper floor. Then the lady swept down the stairs. She said she had heard the window smash but knew nothing of how it happened. A cut on her wrist just couldn't be explained and finally she said she kicked in the window and crawled in. So she was escorted to the county jail and given a place to retire.

The man who owns the house wants a new window.
A man who had also been perigrating from one oasis to another garnering many and sundry notions was also locked up last night. He had started to tote his load to his bungalow and when part way there realized his load was heavy and the night was young so lay down to sleep on a lawn on Pennsylvania avenue west. His sweet dreams were interrupted by the police and he finished his slumbers on the unyielding slats of the police station.

Investigation was made of one of the Lyons Transportation Company's trucks which was forced off the road in front of the home of Dr. F. G. Haines. The truck driver, E. H. Horton, of Rochester, N. Y., claims a Pontiac car owned by the Weigel Motor Company swung into the line of traffic and to escape a collision the big truck was forced off the highway. Several small pipes were broken off and the trucking company will take care of the damage.
